

WE have got so used to hearing this lovely description of our Lord departing from this world into heaven. We can't think now however of any three-tier 'wedding cake' of Heaven - Earth - Hell. Up there is all empty space, cold and dark. This can make it difficult for us to expect our Lord to return, from any 'where' He went. Yet our religion makes sense, only if this is true. We must then really wonder where He is.

I have to suggest we are asking the wrong question when we ask, Where is He? We say in the Creed that He is 'sitting at the right hand of God, the Father'; and we mean, that He is just where He should be; just where all human beings should be: 'all present, and correct', to our Maker; even, 'shoulder to shoulder'; except that we aren't, at all, are we? The question really is then, Where are we? Where 'in the world', are we?

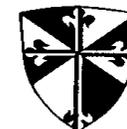

I was amused to read in a naughty book on 'life, the universe, and everything' - 'The Hitch-hiker's Guide To The Galaxy' ; where the very last man says 'All my life I've had this strange unaccountable feeling that something was going on in the world - something big, even sinister'. The Sage answers, 'That's just perfectly normal paranoia. Everyone in the universe has that'. Don't such feelings tell us, we should be somewhere else: with Jesus; in God? And we will be; when He comes back; as promised. We can have every confidence about this - not in ourselves; in Him; the more we know Him; in confessing to Him, hearing Him, praying to Him and having Communion with Him, as we do at each Mass.
