

The Newsletter of
HOLY CROSS PRIORY CHURCH, LEICESTER

Serving Leicester's Catholics since AD 1247

IN these 'ordinary' gospels Jesus is instructing His disciples – and us, if we listen, centuries later – how to live, with Him. The point is, do we want to live with Him? What wakens us up, to want to? People can find life, by themselves, quite satisfactory, and have little or no interest in following Him; or anyone else. Very many people follow others, without realising it – film stars, or singers, writers, fashion guides, political leaders – and often disastrously.

Worldly-wise people see the dangers in this, but unwisely reject all leaders, even Jesus. They can then feel left, alone, to find their way themselves, stand on their feet, 'grow up' as they would say.

We don't. We know that there must be a way. We know we don't know it. We find we don't stand on our own feet very well – we fall, into wrongdoing; and know it. We realise that growing isn't always growing 'up', but 'away': from things we shouldn't leave.

We can't see ourselves making any way; and we must notice how other people just aren't, either. So, the honesty in the gospels can strike us. It seems able to disentangle us from all the iniquity in the world. This is impossible; but possible with the help of God. Jesus shows each of us the way. This rich young man needed to leave his wealth. Can you think, what Jesus would say, to you?

Are there things you should leave – or things you should take on?

A sign would be a great sense of reward you might begin to feel.

As a boy, I thought I was clever, shaking off all religious ideas. Some feeling remained. This determined me to take it seriously.

I found the Dominican Fathers argued with me! So I joined them and it was all complicated, important, necessary – and rewarding.

In June the Holy Cross-based Leicester SPUC branch submitted a detailed response to the public consultation on whether abortion adverts should be shown on TV. We were among 400 consultation respondents. As a result of the opposition the ASA has delayed its decision until Spring. We must continue to oppose a proposal which would give free rein to abortion providers such as FPA and Brook. They have money to spend on ads – pro-life charities don't. Please help us by signing the petition on the table by the Wellington Street entrance.

The next biannual Mass for Lesbian and Gay Catholics, families and friends will take place here on Saturday 17 October at 3pm. Pastoral provision is given by Holy Cross priory to be sensitive to the pastoral needs of homosexual Catholics. Nothing contrary to the Catholic faith is intended or promoted by such care, and indeed, such care is mandated by the Catechism.
